Commuter Bus Fight Heads For U.S. Supreme Court

The long drawn-out fight by commuters of Contra Costa and Marin Counties and by the governing boards of the two counties against Greyhound bus lines' efforts to set up a separate company for Bay Area commuter service was headed for the United States Supreme Court this week.

Attorney Spurgeon Avakian of Oakland last week filed notice of appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court against a ruling of the San Francisco Federal Court in favor of Greyhound.

That recent ruling was to the effect that the Interstate Commerce Commission had acted within its proper authority in granting Greyhound permission to establish a separate company, the Golden Gate Transit Lines.

THE ICC ACTION was on July 6, 1955. The commuter organizations and the Boards of Supervisors of Contra Costa and Marin Counties have continued to battle against the Greyhound plan.

Attorney Avakian has been representing the supervisorial boards and the commuter groups. His pay has been from the two counties, however, with the commuter organizations giving energetic moral support.

The two commuter groups are the Contra Costa County Commuters Association and the Marin County Federation of Commuter Clubs.

GREYHOUND CONTENDS that its commuter runs are not profitable.

The commuter organizations maintain that formation of the Golden Gate Transit Lines would lead to higher commute bus fares, through enabling the new company successfully to request the California Public Utilities Commission to institute increased rates.

In the May issue of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association bulletin, "Commuters News," the association states:

YOUR BOARD of Directors has taken and will continue to take the position that the formation of Golden Gate Transit as now proposed by Greyhound to be a subsidiary corporation handling Bay Area commute service can only result in poorer service, drastically increased fares and possibly eventual collapse of commuter bus transportation in Contra Costa County."

The bulletin pointed out that the appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court would be undertaken by the association "in conjunction with the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the Marin County Federation of Commuter Clubs."

"Supervisors Mel Nielsen and Ray Taylor were instrumental in presenting our views to the Contra Costa County Board of Supersors, with District Attorney (Francis) Collins handling the legal end of things for the county," the bulletin continued.

"It has been a long drawn-out affair, but on which we should see through to the end with the groups mentioned above."

State School Bill Faces Heavy State Senate Cut

The controversial state school aid bill will be sliced from $65 million to $37 million of a report of the State Senate finance subcommittee is approved.

The subcommittee recommended Tuesday that Assembly Bill 3045 authored by Assemblyman Ernest Geddes (R-Claremont) be cut in half and that it be sent to Governor Goodwin Knight without additional financing measures to meet the bill's costs.

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY'S apportionment from the measure would be substantially slashed if the subcommittee report is approved.

State Senator George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez) headed the subsocmittee.

He claimed that the $37 million appropriation would meet present school needs and would allow increase of teachers' minimum salaries from $3400 to $4200 per year.

Miller has sponsored the proposal to increase the teachers' salaries.

BUT ON THE ASSEMBLY side, Assemblyman Donald Doyle (R-Lafayettee) contended that the Senate subcommittee recommendation was "even less than the level Assemblyman Glenn Colidge (R-Felton) and I unsuccessfully worked for when the bill was in the Assembly."

Dyle reiterated his prediction that the final school bill would be in the neighborhood of $50 million.

However, measures which some assemblyen expected would finance the large schools appropriation failed significantly in assembly tests earlier in the week.

AMEASURE BY GEDDES to finance the bill with a three-cent-per-pack cigarette tax was beaten 43-28 a motion to withdraw the bill from the Assembly revenue and taxation committee.

Geddes did not even attempt to withdraw another bill which would increase the state beer tax from two to 10 cents per gallon.

Another measure to raise the school taxes authored by Assemblyman Carlos Bee(D-Hayward) was also rejected.

BEE'S PROPOSAL WOULD have increased the tax rate on all personal incomes above $7500 a year.

The governor has repeatedly said since the legislative session's outset that he would not sign a school bill without financing proposals.

Three weeks ago he responded to a question from a reporter from The Sun by saying that "he fully intends to veto" the Geddes bill unless financing requirements are added.

Pharmacy Now At New Spot

Orinda Pharmacy is now open in its beautiful new location at the corner of Brookwood Road and Moraga Highway.

The store was formerly located at the corner of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Moraga Highway.

Assembly Passes Bill Prohibiting Interest Conflict

A bill to extend conflict-of-interest legislation from insurance-man-Legislation to all state employees has received the approval of the State Assembly.

Authorized by Franx Lanterman (R-La Canada), the measure provides that anyone drawing a state salary will be prohibited from accepting compensation "for services to be rendered before any state agency."

ON MAY 17 THE Legislature passed a bill which prohibited state employees from accepting a fee for placing insurance business with the state.

Though overwhelmingly approved by both the state senate and assembly this bill was assailed by Senator George Miller Jr, (D-Martinez) as "discriminatory," since it affected only insurance with its conflict-of-interest provisions.

In response to a question from Assemblyman Thomas MacBride (D-Sacramento), Lanterman said that his bill would prohibit lawyer-legislators from appearing before the State Liquor Department with liquor license cases.

ANOTHER LANTERMAN BILL would establish a code of ethics for all state employees. This measure specifically contends that conflict-of-interest by any state employee, including legislators, is a violation of proper conduct.

Another Republican, Harold Levering of Los Angeles, has received approval of the Assembly for a bill prohibiting real estate men who are state employees from receiving commissions on property leased or sold to the state.

Sheriff Suspends Juvenile Control Officer Drummond

Mrs. Florence Drummond, Juvenile control officer of the county, was suspended for disciplinary reasons by Sheriff Harry A. Brown.

Mrs. Drummond will be suspended from the department until Monday, said Brown.

Reason for the suspension was given for four alleged violations in a report to the Civil Service Commission by Brown.

Included in the suspension order is the loss of pay for the period. Brown stated that Mrs. Drummond was suspended when she went to a conference of the Women Peace Officers' Association in San Francisco May 29.

The report charges that Mrs. Drummond drove a county car to the conference without permission, in violation of standing county orders and was not on county business. Brown stated that "pressing matters" in the department had been suspended while she went to the conference.

Visit Pebble Beach

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mordy of Orinda recently spent a few days at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach.

Mrs. Hellum Clarifies Opinion on Library Site

County Librarian Bertha D. Hellum this week declared that "no member or official" of the Orinda Community Church "made any approach to th library staff or the Orinda Library Building Fund Committee relative to the sale of the church property to the library committee."

In an effort to dispel possible misconceptions, Mrs. Hellum, in a letter to The Sun, further stated:

"The suggestion came from the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee, and it was in the spirit of community cooperation that the church and the library considered the idea."

MRS. HELLUM'S statement followed publication of an article in last week's Orinda Sun reporting that, following a survey by her, Mrs. Hellum advised against use of the present Orinda Community Church as location of an expanded Orinda Library.

She gave that opinion in a letter to Perc S. Brown, general chairman of the Orinda Library Building Fund.

STANLEY ALLEN, chairman of the adult section of the teenage problems committee of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee, pointed out this week that the whole idea of the possibility of such use of the present church quarters "was not an official action on the part of the association, the Civic Affairs Committee or even of our teenage problems committee."

"It was purely a preliminary, exploratory idea of my own. I was trying to find out if the idea were feasible," he said.

The present Orinda Branch Library is housed in the Orinda Community Church.

The recent survey tied in with the suggestion by some members of the teenage problems committee that perhaps Fellowship Hall in the present church structure could be used as a teenage center, if the church acquires other quarters.

Mrs. Hellum's latest letter follows:

"MY ATTENTION has been directed to an erroneous impression that has been left with the people of the Orinda community by the publication of my letter to Mr. Perc S. Brown in The Orinda Sun of May 31.

"First let me say that there is no misstatement in your publication. If anyone can be held responsible for a possible misinterpretation, it is I.

"The Orinda Library Building Fund Committee asked me to give them my views on the possible use of the present church property as a library building.

"AFTER LISTING the reasons for rejection (based on functional library planning), I offered a final statement reflecting public opinion as it reached me through our Orinda library staff. Some public opinion is against using church property for a library site.

"For clarification of the record, may I say that no member or official of the church made any approach to the library staff or to the Orinda Library Building Fund Committee relative to the sale of the church property to the library committee. The suggestion came from the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee, and it was in the spirit of community cooperation that the church and the library considered the idea.

"It is possible that misconceptions are derived from current misunderstanding of the relationship between the library and the church. Some believe that the library is a church library; others believe that the church receives an income from housing the county library branch. Both beliefs are completely incorrect.

"ACTUALLY, county library service was suspended in Orinda for several years because there was no place to house the library. For the past eight years the church has provided the space, free of rent. During this period, the county library has made a token payment for utilities and janitor service. The sum is so modest that business management of the church could justly claim to be subsidizing the present library location.

"The community and the Contra Costa County Library System owe the Orinda Community Church a great debt of gratitude for the use of this space these past eight years.

"I will appreciate your calling this to the attention of your reading public."

Gas Station Plan OKd for Snow's Land

The County Board of Adjustment Wednesday night granted J. F. Snow's application for modification and adjustment of access points on his 3.62-acre parcel in the Planned Neighborhood Business District on the west side of Orinda Highway.

Snow's application was filed so that Tidewater Oil Company could erect an Associated gasoline station on the site, which is at the north portion of the Planned Neighborhood Business District, across from Orinda Community Center land just north of Irwin Way.

Plans for the Associated station were mentioned by Attorney Bestor Robinson, representing Snow, at the hearing before the Adjustment Board Wednesday night, according to Anthony DeJesus, associate county planner.

THEY ARE ALSO specified in Snow's application, DeJesus said.

Robinson said that the gas station would conform in design to standards of the Planned Neighborhood Business District.

DeJesus reported yesterday that the plans show a depth of about 100 feet from the proposed connecting road which is planned between the present Orinda Highway and the future Orinda Village By-Pass, and a frontage along the present Orinda Highway of about 150 feet.

PLANS CALL for three pump islands, he said. He added that there would be six pumps—two to an island.

Snow was present Wednesday night, but did not speak.

DeJesus explained that the area in question is the same site where Hagstrom's Food Stores, Inc., planned to build a store until the firm dropped its plans several months ago.

AFTER THE Adjustment Board action had been taken, Mrs. Ritchie Ward and Mrs. Henry Zacharias of the Orinda Association's planning committee appeared at the meeting.

Later that evening they conversed with Planning Commissioners George Honeegger and Joseph DeCosta, and expressed disappointment that another service station is being planned for the Planned Neighborhood Business District.

Housing Authority Investigation Set By County Jurors

The Contra Costa Grand Jury will enter a full scale investigation of the Contra Costa Housing Authority, according to Philip Bancroft Jr., foreman.

The grand jury statement came Monday night following a special meeting of the entire group in Martinez. The investigation follows on the heels of charges of irregularities in the authority made by Fred Anthon, ousted maintenance supervisor of the authority.

Anthon charged that he was fired because he told "all he knew" to a federal investigator. The authority states that Anthon was discharged for budget reasons.

J. J. Sullivan, investigator of the Compliance Division, Housing and Home Financing Agency in Los Angeles will be asked to appear at a meeting of the grand jury today.

Asked to the second meeting will be Ronald Howard, executive director of the authority and Gerould Gill, chairman of the housing authority commissioners.

Charges by Anthon were answered last week by the Housing Authority. The reply to the charges was made by Howard and A. F. Bray, Jr., authority attorney.

San Pablo State Park Bill Wins Assembly Vote

A bill to establish the San Pablo Reservoir Area as a state park was passed unanimously by the State Assembly Monday after approval by the Assembly committee on conservation, planning and public works and the Assembly ways and means committee.

The measure — Assembly Bill 1755—was introduced by Assemblyman C. C. Masterson (D-Richmond).

ACCORDING TO MASTERSON, the bill establishes a requirement that the rules governing the park's operation will "conform to the rules of and regulations of the State Department of Public Health."

The assembly appropriated $2,500,000 to acquire the site from the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

EBMUD has generally opposed legislation regarded as contaminating water to be used for drinking purposes.

THE COMPANY HAS four terminal reservoirs in Alameda-Contra Costa County and is currently fighting another measure, Assembly Bill 34, which would allow fishing in these metropolitan reservoirs.

John McFarlane, general manager of EBMUD announced that he was recruiting backing from local health officers who have opposed such legislation previously.

McFarland said that AB 34 would allow for contamination and pollution of drinking water but stressed that EBMUD's oppisition to legislation permitting fishing was for teminal and not mountain reservoirs.

Odell Estimate Goes Beyond Present Plans

By 1961 the Orinda Union School District will need 32 more classrooms in addition to those now under construction and in the planning stage, W. R. Odell and Associates informed the District Board of Trustees Monday night.

The report was delivered by Dr. R. C. Schneider, Dr. W. H. Strand and Glenn Nimnicht of the Odell group at the regular monthly meeting of the school board at Pine Grove School.

Presenting a brief summary of revised projected enrollments for the local grammer school district, the Odell representatives went one year further in their estimates—into 1961—than had been the case in previous surveys.

THEY GAVE a classroom-need projection; it was in this connection that they estimated that the additional 32 classrooms would be needed by 1961, to be built at Inland Valley and at the Wagner Ranch in the Bear Creek sector.

District Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff stated later that the classrooms now under construction or in the planning stage include six at Pine Grove School and six at Sleepy Hollow and Glorietta Schools.

In addition to receiving the Odell report, the district board:

1. INSTRUCTED Sheaff to write the Orinda Association that the school trustees have no plans in the foreseeable future that would cause them to be interested in acquiring any portion of the 10.6 acres of Pine Grove land being offered for sale to the community by Pacific Intermountain Express Company.

This board action followed receipt of a letter from the Orinda Association, signed by Secretary Claire Ward, stating that the association had recently been presented with a proposal from PIE regarding the Pine Grove parcel.

The proposal, the association letter said, involved suggestion of down payment and "small payments over a considerable period."

"WE WOULD LIKE TO know," the letter continued, "if there is anything in the Orinda Union School District planning in the foreseeable future that would cause you to be interested in any part of this land."

In instructing Sheaff to reply in the negative to the association, the trustees pointed out that the district has the 20 acres it needs at the Pine Grove and that it also has plans for the Inland Valley and Wagner Ranch sites.

2. ACCEPTED regretfully a letter of resignation from Dr. Philip Lambert, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, effective July 1.

Lambert has accepted a position as assistant professor in education and principal of the Demonstration School at the University of California at Los Angeles.

However, Lambert will remain here to fulfill his commitments to be principal of the local summer school, which will run for five weeks, from June 20 through July 26. He expects to leave for Los Angeles August 1.

IN HIS NEW position at UCLA, Lambert will be engaged in developing new curricula at the well known experimental Demonstration School for grammer school students and for training of teachers.

Lambert has been with the Orinda School District about seven years—as an eighth grade teacher, a principal, director of curriculum and, for the past year, assistant superintendent.

In addition to heading the local summer school this summer, Lambert will teach supervision and administration at the U.C. summer school in Berkeley, in courses for teachers.

3. APPOINTED Glenn McNicholas, now Pine Grove School principal, to be district director of curriculum, effective July 1.

McNicholas has been with the district since 1951. He has been principal of Pine Grove School the past year.

4. Adopted a salary increase for non-certificated personnel (office staff, custodians, maintenance men), amounting to approximately 6.1 per cent increase overall.

5. Appointed Gerald Meeder to be a special teacher in charge of music for the district the coming school year.

6. ACCEPTED A report by Dr. Vernon Larsen, representative of Science Research Associates, on achievement tests conducted among students of the district.

The report showed that the students are growing mentally at a steady rate through the various grades, according to Lambert.

7. Received a report from Mrs. Margaret Bengston, district health consultant, on her activities during the past year, including sight, hearing, accident prevention and general programs.

8. LEARNED THAT the Gifted Child Study Project meeting to be held with representatives of the Lafayette School District had been postponed from Tuesday of this week to Monday night, June 17, at the Stanley School library in Lafayette.

That meeting, Sheaff explained, will be attended by a steering committe composed of representatives from both districts. Among those present will be Sheaff and Superintendent W. B. Ellis of Lafayette; Lambert; Ben Harris, Lafayette district director of curriculum; Trustee Louis Ambler of Orinda, John B. Beckett of the Orinda Educational Advisory Committe, Mrs. Frank Newman, Mrs. Avraham Yedidia and a teacher and a principal from Orinda.

9. Heard Sheaff report that district enrollment was 2481.

Yes, Despite Calendar - - -

If anyone told you this past week that summer doesn't officially arrive until June 21, you could look at him with contempt.

The reason: The temperature over the eight-day period ending Wednesday kept rising up to Tuesday's 94 degrees, and although it dropped to 86 Wednesday, it was still plenty warm.

There was no rain during the eight days, so the total rainfall to date for the current weather year, which will end June 30, remained 27.8 inches.

Here are the maximum and minimum temperatures for the eight days:

	High	Low
May 29	61	52
May 30	66	53
May 31	75	48
June 1	79	48
June 2	80	51
June 3	84	50
June 4	94	52
June 5	86	52

Key System Strike Hangs; Carmen Vote on Issue

Balloting was still underway as The Sun went to press last night on whether or not carmen of Key System would accept wage offers made by The Transit Company in efforts to hold off a strike which would cripple Bay Area transit.

Agreement was reached by Carmen's Union officials and Key System negotiators on a "tentative basis" last Friday night just a few minutes before the carmen were scheduled to go on strike.

Arthur Viat, federal mediator, did not disclose what the terms were. In a press statement Viat noted:

"Both parties have recognized their public responsibilities. They really extended themselves to keep buses and trains rolling."

Meanwhile, the Contra Costa Transit Council urged civic groups, business clubs, social, fraternal and civic organizations to fight the Contra Costa-Alameda Transit District.

The transit district is still seeking to find some type of substitute transportation should Key carmen strike.

Ray Taylor, chairman of the board o fsupervisors and Ivan Goyak, vice chairman, urged all groups to wire to the attorney general in support of the Transit Council's efforts to file a suit testing the legality of the district in the courts.

The ransit council claims that residents of the western portion of the county, will receive little if any service from the district, according to Attorney Robert Condon.

The two supervisors noted that groups should contact Brown and legislators as quickly as possible since Brown would hand down a decision in the next few days.

The groups were urged to telegram messages to the attorney general and not to write because of the time element involved.

Asked by the transit council is a "Quo Warranto" suit to test validity of the formation of the district.

The residents of the cities of Concord, Walnut Creek and El Cerrito definitely voted themselves into the district, along with all of Alameda County, Brown ruled.

Cunningham Set To Face Court On Accusations

County Recorder Ralph Cunningham is to appear Monday before Judge Homer Pattterson to answer accusations by the Contra Costa Grand Jury of malfeasence in office. The hearing is set for 11 a.m.

If Cunningham should choose to deny the accusations, the case would be referred to jury trial. If found guilty of the accusations posed by the grand jury, Cunningham would face removal from office.

Although no official statement has been made by county official observers claim that the recorders position will soon be eliminated and put under the jurisdiction of the County Clerk's Office.

The board of supervisors could also appoint someone to the post should Cunningham be removed or should he resign. The appointment would be for Cunningham's unexpired term.

Cunningham was charged by the grand jury of chronic absenteeism. He was also accused of knowing that James Todesco, a senior clerk, was kicking back $12 a month to Jack Haule, an intermediate clerk who resigned for health reasons in April.

C of C Installs Officers; Also 'Meets the Press'

Installation ceremonies were combined with a "Meet the Press" program at the luncheon meeting of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon at Casa Orinda.

In the absence of incoming President Maynard Buehler, who is on a European trip, Stanley Allen, new vice president, accepted the gavel from Secretary-Treasurer Clarence Betz.

Allen will be acting president until Buehler's return, expected around the end of the month.

OUTGOING PRESIDENT Merle Brown thanked the entire organization for cooperation during the past year, and singled out Betz for "doing an excellent job."

Brown suggested that members encourage others to attend meetings.

IN ADDITION to Buehler and Allen, chamber board members for the 1957-58 year are:

Secretary-treasurer (reelected) Clarence Betz; directors — Ernest Poll, Bud Leiber, John Black, John Ogden, Alfred Pettler and Robert Gemetti.

Betz reported that the State of California has ruled that public liability in the Orinda Bus Shelter is the chamber's responsibility.

The secretary-treasurer announced that bills for chamber dues will be in the mail soon.

THREE PAPERS were represented at the "Meet the Press" Day program—The Orinda Sun, the Orinda News and the Oakland Tribune.

Present for The Sun were Herman Silverman, editor and publisher, and Dick Osborn, associate editor.

On hand for the Orinda News, official publication of the Orinda Association, were Mrs. Douglas C. Adie, association director of publications, and Mrs. Marvin C. Baker of the publications committee of the association.

Production of the Orinda News was described as "volunteer labor" over a period of many years.

Les Sipes represented the Oakland Tribune.

Allen paid tribute to the newspaper coverage of Orinda by the three newspapers represented and stressed the role they played in helping the community.

SILVERMAN pointed out that The Orinda Sun was an earlier combination of the Orinda Homebuilder and the Orinda Boulevard News. He stated that the paper's history goes back 15 years.

"We are proud that The Orinda Sun has the highest circulation coverage of any weekly in Northern California," Silverman said.

"Sometimes we don't please those on one side or the other side," he continued.

"We try to cover both sides of issues, and our colums are always open to everyone."

SIPES of the Oakland Tribune was the main speaker.

He explained how a metropolitan newspaper operates.

He discussed camera reporting, sources of news, and happy and unhappy phases of news work.

Former Orinda Girl Will Be Smith Grad

Each told of having had preconcieved ideas, before they came to this country, that they would be treated as outsiders here, but of having quickly learned to feel at home here.

County Officials To Check Grading Plan in Orinda

A group of Contra Costa County officials will inspect a controversial grading and dredging operation in Orinda this morning.

An inspection party will leave from Supervisor Mel Nielsen's office today at 10 a.m. to inspect the drainage, grading, and lots to be sold on a tract owned by George Grizinger and Nathan Gray.

THE TRACT IS LOCATED between the Oak Springs tract and Encinas De Moraga and is behind the Willows Restaurant.

The couty officials are responding to complaints from Encinas residents who have criticized the dredging and grading operation.

Included among the county officials will be Chet Smith of the public works department, Rudy Kraintz, county building inspector; Matthew Walker, from the district attorney's office; a representative of the county health department and Supervisor Nielsen.

NEILSON SAID THAT everything would be inspected, including a septic tang allegedly leaking onto the property of Encinas residents.

The supervisor expressed particular concern over an advertisement appearing in a daily newspaper advertising "a lot for a little" and quoting low prices for the lots.

"Those roads are very narrow," Nielsen said. "We may have to post police at the bottom to prevent people from getting killed on the way up."

MRS. WILLIAM HICKOK of Encinas De Moraga contended that the area was still zoned for "summer cabin sites on 25 foot lots" under a 1924 zoning measure.

"We will investigate that, too," Nielsen said.

Matchmaker Is Playing At SF Theater

Thornton Wilder's comedy, "The Matchmaker," is now playing at the Geary Theatre, San Francisco. Local engagement ends June 29. Matinees are performed Wednesday and Saturday.

Ruth Gordon, Loring Smith and Patricia Cutts head an international cast that includes Arthur Hill, Ethel Griffies, Peter Bayliss, Patrick McAlinney, Mari Lynn, Diana Rivers, Robert Morse and Alexander Davion.

Tyrone Guthrie, famous Old Vic director, has staged the farce, and Tanya Moiseiwitsch designed the settings and costumes.

"The Matchmaker," production and cast virtually intact, is direct from 14 months in New York and a year in London.

The "Matchmaker" concerns itself with a wealthy, widowed merchant who comes to New York in the 1880s in search for a spouse, aided and abetted by a matchmaker.

A highly successful novelist, Thornton Wilder, had made his mark as a playwright with such diverse plays as "Our Town," "The Skin of Our Teeth," and "The Matchmaker."

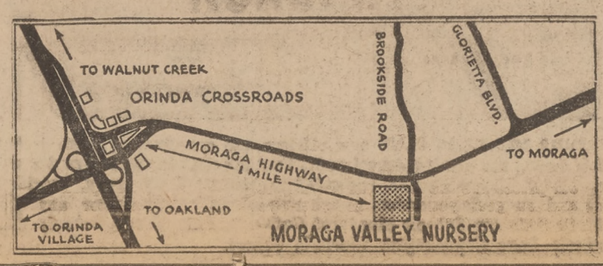
MORAGA VALLEY NURSERY



FOR LAND'S SAKE

Of Golfers, Labor Supply, Even Marital Factors...

By Lloyd K. King

FRED MAISEL, about whom Cosmopolitan wrote recently entitling article as above, was half way to Pittsburg one recent morning when he remembered that he was to give a speech at the Contra Costa Real Estate Mart Breakfast—young man moved very fast arriving only twenty minutes late!!

Ray McCoy (Gelderman Realty-Danville) was Chairman of the very successful Mart Golf Tournament and Barbecue held Tuesday at the Contra Costa Golf Club. Chefs were Jack Hageman (Insurance - Lafayette) and Bill Hayward (everybody knows him too). These annual affairs have become a grand tradition with the real estate people in this area.

TED LOEWEN (Industrial broker with the Irving Deutscher Company in Pleasant Hill) . . . ponted out that one of the reasons electronic and other light manufacturing companies like Contra Costa County is the large supply of women workers available her. In other areas demand is very high for this type of help and new plants find it difficult to (WO) MAN their facilities.

SPRINGHILL VALLEY—JACK MARCHANT'S newest subdivision off Springhill Road in Lafayette had its ground-breaking ceremony this week. This gorgeous valley is unusual in that two creeks border it with a road to be built between. Each house facing the road will have a creekside setting in the rear yard.

WAYNE BAILY, Executive Secretary, Contra Costa Real Estate Board just returned from the National Conference of Real Estate Board Secretaries, which was held in the East. He was moderator of the Multiple Listing Session, which was a very important part of this conference.

Clayton Valley on Its Way?

GREEN & PLAMBECK (Concord Builders) have had very strong reaction to their 32-lot subdivision (PINE HOLLOW GARDENS) on Mitchell Canyon Road in Clayton. Four houses were sold in one day in this OVER $23,000 bracket development.

ACCORDING TO FHA financial difficulties are not the main cause of people defaulting on their loans . . . marital difficulties, death, and illness account for more than one-half the delinquencies.

NON-RESIDENT CALIFORNIANS who didn't enter the Service from this State and who heard that CAL VET loans might be extended to two-year residents, will be disappointed to know that this proposal will not, at this time, be approved by the State Legislature.

NEW SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION FOR CONCORD—Last week, in spite of protests from several local associations, (Not First Savings or Security Savings—they recommended approval), THE APPLICATION WAS APPROVED BY THE SAVING AND LOAN COMMISSIONER. He felt present population and future growth of Concord area warranted another facility for community savings.

KERMIT LINCOLN (Builder, Lafayette), LUTHER LINCOLN (State Senator), DON DOYLE (Assemblyman), FRED C. KRACKE (Attorney, Lafayette), George Hoyt (Appraiser, Berkeley) and LEIGHTON DE MAEYER (Orinda) are the Directors and Stockholders. PARK 'N SHOP Shopping Center will probably be the location of their new office.

TEEN-AGE GIRLS took great interest in the Capwell's store competition which picked members of a fashion board. Winners will model teen-age clothing this summer, and will serve as "Judges" on new styles. Girls entered the competition from 10 schools in the county. Many valuable tips on modeling were given. The girls picked were judged as tops in personality, modeling ability and poise. —Sun photos by Don Bradley

Besides winning merchandise gift orders the 10 board members will gain additional modeling experinece in two more Teen Fashion Shows slated for August. The junior fashion experts will also be employed in fashion merchandising and sales by the store starting July 25.

Fallen Angels Concerns Gals

Noel Coward's London and Broadway stage comedy hit "Fallen Angels," has been booked into the Alcazar Theater for a three week engagement starting Monday evening. Matinees will be on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Fallen Angels" concerns two women whose escapades on the continent have shattering repercusions seven years after they are marired to rather conservative English gentlemen. The return of a former French boy friend is a complication.

Brownies Hold Fly-Up Rites, Win Scarfs

Sun Valley's Brownie Troop No. 4 held candle-light fly-up ceremonies Saturday in the fireside room of the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. Mothers and fathers of the girls attended.

The girls wore dark skirts and white blouses. Their fathers presented them with the yellow scarf of the intermediate Scout uniform. Mrs. Richard Mansfield, leader of the troop, gave the girl scout laws and the promise. Christine Hartzell was announcer. Mary Pryt's father flew here for the event from Iceland where he has been on business for several months. Linda Mansfield's father, a pilot between Japan, Hawaii and the United States, also arranged to be here.

A patio supper party at the home of the Helmer Johnsons followed the ceremony. Tasty casseroles, savory salads and ambrosial sundaes were served by the girls and their mothers.

The troop gave surprise gifts to their mothers. For several weeks they had been compiling the favorite recipes of all the mothers. The girls have made loose leaf booklets and covered them with plastic gingham.

Troop members taking part in the fly-up ceremony were Linda Adkins, Patricia Gaines, Debbie Howe, Mary Pryts, Patty Low, Linda Johnson, Alexa Schindler, Patty Finney, Christine Hartzell, Linda Mansfield, Carolyn White, Louise Birchard and Cecelia Stretch.

Theft Admitted By Accountant

An accountant is free on his own recognizance after pleading guilty to grand theft charges before Judicial District Judge Clifford Thompson in Walnut Creek on Wednesday.

Walter Lonergan, 53, admitted embezzling $1,102 from his employer Rett Turner of Lafayette. He reportedly left a note informing Turner of the embezzlement.

Lonergan said that he took the money because of difficulties with a realty operation concerning a war surplus housing unit in San Jose.

Though Lonergan has been ordered to appear before the superior court for sentencing, the case is expected to be referred to the probation department first.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Sunburned shoulders and a shiny red nose!

THIS WAS THE WEEK when Milady, donning halter and shorts, did a record 50-yard dash through her household duties. The essential ones, that is. And w/dishes stacked, beds unmade, ironing piled high as an elephant's eye, she gloried in her garden from nine til' noon, emerging THEN only long enough to stoke herself w/a soupcon of cottage cheese, a cup of black coffee.

Then still undaunted by interior domestic jumble, she blithely armed herself w/rake and spade, lotion and hat, and went right back OUT for more. WHO can resist it—a day in June? For June IS bustin' out all over and we were a long time waiting, weren't we?

So if you'll pardon our plagirism, it seems apropos that after hoeing our own weedy hillside and picking buckets of geraniums, we borrow a pertinent poem recently writ by Jan Soubielle for the Enchanted Hills garden party.

"ON THE STATE OF YOUR YARD, if you need pardoning . . . Get back to the sod, dear, for gardening is hardening! That plants get hungry as kids, realize—To keep them thriving, you must fertilize.

"If Miss Camellia looks a bit flaccid . . . Perhaps you've neglected to pass her the acid. And should those rhododendrons seem down in the doldrums, it's later than YOO think—Go pour them a drink!

"Weeding flower beds may ruin ya's, but villain WEED will choke petunias! SPRING IS THE SEASON to assume the pose, so let's ELEVEE, derriere and elbows!"

More horticuluture . . .

GARDEN GOSSIP . . . Did you know that MEN prefer flowers to vegetables when they're doing the gardening? A perfect radish, homegrown, won't rate half the praise from father that a paragon posy will.

To add spice and color to a summer salad, try chopped nasturtium leaves. Tear and toss a few bright flower blooms, too!

PICTURESQUE PARAgraph in the monthly bulletin from the Concord League of Women Voters . . . In describing their full calendar for the future year, femmes state (femininely) "and now it behooves us all to squeeze our avoirdupois into this size 12 year."

TO STEAL MORE STUFF, one (1) riddle from the most recent issue of "Weekly Riddler," the new riddler's digest, edited and published (price2c) by Maryann Ruedrich, daughter of the Walt Ruedrichs of La Cuesta . . .

"A mouse in her room woke Miss Dowd . . . She was frightened it must be allowed . . . Soon a happy thought hit her, to scare off the critter—She sat up in bed and meowed!"

"ROCK 'N RALLY," the new Teenage TV Show daily on KPIX, channel 5, has made a bid for MIRAMONTE HIGH on Thursday, June 13, 4:00-4:30 . . . Accompaning the film, to be made earlier here, and appearing as featured guests that day will be an attractive foursome who found themselves on the pages of this month's Cosmo, Susan Holmes and Dixon Farmer will join Stephanie Foster and John Coffey on the new youth show.

A TV SPLASH, literally, for the Jack Picketts of Lafayette, the Tom Forsters', Paul and Virginia Stafford, and junior and senior Phil Bush, who will appear in a swimming pool commercial.

A SUMMERTIME SWAP for Addison and Marian Thompson (She's new ORIOLES pres.) who'll exchange residences w/Island friends . . . The Orindans to live in the Honolulu house, the Islanders to move into the Thompsons' Glorietta Hacienda.

ROADMAPS are interesting reading this time of year . . . Esp. forthe William Thurston family who'll christen their new wagon w/a five wk. trip to Canada, Montana and Idaho.

And horsey culture . . .

GET ALONG L'IL DOGIE . . . A troup of tired horseback riders and their VERY weary horses heading home to the Grizzly Stables that long pull UP El Toyonal just before dusk last Sunday night . . . A LONG day for members of LOS MONTES, the Grizzly Stables riding club one of the many groups that participated in the Moraga Jr. Horseshow at Rheem Center.

Plugging along happily were Pat Simmons on her "Taffy," Lynn Loveland and her sister Teri riding tandem on "Monty" . . . Rima Weilerstein on "Corky," Nancy Baker on "Shammy," Finn Jessen on "Golden Boy," David Leaf on "Coffee," Liz MacGregor on "Kemi" and last but not least, Larryann Long on "Chico."

The group, overniting in sleeping bags at the Simmons' home just across from the stable, barely slept a wink from the excitement and were up at 4:30 to curry and saddle their horses for the event . . . The show lasted all day long—The horses on their feet all day, the kidses on their SEAT all day!

SCHOOL'S OUT, too, for June Thaman and Margaret Hinds, two Orinda mothers who have been counted among the campus coeds at UC this past semester.

And haughty-culture

Following the recent AA-Teacher Classical Concert held in Lafayette, the K. B. Andersons entertained at a party at their El Toyonal home in honor of Orinda music teacher Peg Winters, whose sister Martha and her husband Jerry Chantler were among those rating the added treat of an extemporaneous concert which took place during the evening . . . In the grop of music afficionadas, Margaret and Howard Fisher, the Art Smiths, George and Helen Vurek, Denise Hagerman, Reg Heslin . . . From Lafayette were Virginia Blair and LuRene Mattson and her daughter, LuRette Mattson—w/Peg's daughters Ann and Christine joshing their mother and Virginia, who reminisced the recent reverse party put on by some of our most musically talented.

EXPRESSO REVERSO . . . where all went Topsy-Turvy completely w/Peg doing a vocal stint, and singer Virginia plugging perplexed at the keyboard . . . Fred Freeman giving PEG a lesson, pianowise, Evangeline Hounnold embracing a violin for the first time and WC violinist Clara Floyd finding the piano a puzzlement. FUN FOR EVERYONE!

P.S. de resistance, for your Sunday eve existence—TWO BALLETS, Songs Sans Word and Tschaikowsky's Divertissement will be presented, w/an interim piano concert by Vladimir Pleshak, Sunday night at the Berkeley Little Theater by the Ballet Circle Workshop, composed of dancers from the East Bay Civic Ballet under the direction of well-known local balleria Jan Carpenter. Curtain at 8:15, ALL SEATS reserved, tickets $1.50, available at door or by calling TH 8-1014.

Among localites planning to attend, the Robert Neuhauses of Miner Road, the Ralph Macduffs of Happy Valley and the DeWitt Krugers, who will attend an early dinner gathering to be given by the Rawlinson Reeds at their Roble Court home in Berkeley.

Local Salesman Headed Regiments Against Nazis

By NORMAN COLBY

A Walnut Creek auto salesman is a former Yugoslavia army officer, a ski champion who commanded several regiments against the Germans in 1941, who was captured and escaped three times, who spent nearly four years as a German prisoner and who served as an UNRRA welfare director after the war.

Mirko Petkovic, 46, considers himself lucky that he is alive, and even luckier to be in the United States, the homeland of his wife, Aimee.

The couple met in Osnabruck, a former German prison camp in Westphalia, Germany, after World War II ended.

Petkovic had been a prisoner there, and had become with the German surrender a United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation director. His knowledge of six languages was an asset to the Allies.

Aimee had come from the United States as an UNRRA representative.

During their early acquaintanceship, Petkovic showed her the prisoner barracks accidentally bombed by the Royal Air Force where 13 of his fellow officers were killed. He narrowly escaped death.

The technique of escape was the least of his worries when young Mike Petkovic graduated from the Yugoslavia Royal Military Academy in 1932.

HE LOVED to ski, and joined the ski troops. In 1936 to 1938, as military ski champion, he represented his country three times in international competiton, once winning the Gold Medal of Honor in France for high accomplishment.

The world situation crowded out skiing in 1939, and he refused to go to Italy for the ski meets held there.

Instead he entered another kind of competition. Seven hundred army officers wanted to get into the General Staff College. Fifty-five of them made it. Captain Petkovic was one of them.

When the German attack came in 1941, he was quickly transferred from school to the fighting front.

He had been a mountain troop machine gun company commander, but he was given a battalion.

As the Yugoslav army suffered heavy casualties, Petkovic was given command of an entire area, including two regiments facing the German onslaught.

While pursuing his duties, a building collapsed, pinning him under the wreckage. But the oncoming Germans marched past him.

After hiding out in a graveyard for the night, he managed to return to his own troops again, and was made a lieutenant colonel by the general in command, but was taken prisoner in the final rush of Panzers and infantry.

Petkovic became a "guest" of the Germans for the duration.

It was during that four years less 24 days at Osnabruck that the British bombing killed 13 of his fellow barracks prisoners.

He and five others in the barracks survived.

"My last escape was in 1945, when the Germans marched us north. They didn't want any of us to be surrendered. They recaptured me again, but the Canadians freed us all on April 4," Petkovic explained.

"I had learned English from some books in the prison camp, and then became an interpreter for the British 30th Corps, and later employment officer, welfare officer and director for UNRRA."

PETKOVIC continued, "In 1947, Aimee and I both resigned, and went first to Paris, then to Monte Carlo where we were married, then to Switzerland and finally Sweden, where Aimee's parents live.

"After five months, I received visa papers to the United States and we landed here on July 19, 1948.

"I've had a lot of jobs since then—singing waiter in Grass Valley, salesman of cars, frozen foods, furniture, silverware and magazines."

"One of the biggest days in my life was when they gave me United States citizenship papers on March 19, 1953," he added.

Pektovic remembers MiHailovich, who was his professor of strategy at the Royal Academy. MiHailovich was the famed guerilla commander who held down many German divisions during the war, and was later executed by his rival, Tito, now the president of Yugoslavia.

Petkovic remembers that he beat MiHailovich at a game of chess in 1937. "He was a military genius," Petkovic declared.

The local salesman is employed by the J. T. Lucas company in Walnut Creek.

Juvenile Officer Rumored Possible In WC Department

By NORMAN COLBY

Budget discussions have begun at the Walnut Creek city hall. Among them are consultations by the members of the Police Department advisory group, formerly the police commission.

Chief of Police Leigh Brilliant, although he has declined to comment publicly on the matter, is known to favor the creation of the post of juvenile officer in his organization.

This is expected to be brought before the advisory group, along with many other suggestions for the improvement of the Police Department.

A HINT AS to the functions of a juvenile officer within the Walnut Creek Police Department is given in the Police Regulations and General Orders which have been adopted and circulated.

The juvenile officer, if created, would be one of the police officers, who would work perhaps on a full-time basis with young people.

The "regulations" say that the purpose of the "juvenile bureau" would be to develop police programs dealing with juvenile control and delinquency prevention to dispose of all cases involving juveniles as prescribed in departmental orders.

ALSO TO maintain cooperative relationships with other agencies concerned with juvenile matters, to present cases in juvenile court, to coordinate with other divisions of the department working with juvenile cases, to provide individual treatment in the disposition of juvenile offenders.

There are other clauses relating to the care of women prisoners and disposal of cases involving women and girls, which may be resolved later.

Chief Brilliant in recent weeks has conferred with county law officers concerning the rising juvenile crime problem, and recently was in Concord where juvenile incidents have attracted wide attention.

Members of the Police Department advisory group include Councilman Farry Granzotto, chairman; Mrs. Joan Howard, Norman Wilson, H. C. Cherrington, A. A. Franklin and Paul Lawrence.

Widllife Area Planned By Conservation Group

An organizational meeting to study the further possibilities of an Orinda Wildlife Area for each of our schools was conducted recently by Mrs. Raffi Bedayn in her home at 49 Oakwood Road.

Mr. Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of Orinda School District attended, as did administrators from all Orinda schools, interested mothers and conservation representatives from various local organizations.

MRS. BEDAYN started the session by relating that Dr. Richard H. Goodwin, national president of Nature Conservancy, was a recent guest in Orinda. Goodwin approved Orinda's plan of conservation which allows our children to plant and work as well as study in the area.

The conservation of wild life is a comparatively new problem in our country Mrs. Bedayn said, and by means of such local preservation, children will have meaningful experience in what conservation means.

Dr. C. Harold Bryant, author of "California, Outdoor Heritage" stated that, Orinda children will then be more appreciative adults and will treasure National Parks.

THE PLOT OF GROUND set aside at Glorietta School was the inspiration for this community-wide project. California natives were planted under the supervision of Mrs. Raffi Bedayn and were labeled botanically so they can be studied by the children and teachers alike as in an "outdoor classroom."

The Glorietta school children have discovered various problems of conservation including over-grazing and soil erosion.

Mrs. Margaret K. Anderson was asked to serve as "Conservation Coordinator" for the community.

FRANK ISOLA DESCRIBED the summer nature camp under his supervision which is limited to Orinda pupils who have completed fifth grade. He said they study weather, geology, visit Ranger stations, look-out stations and wild plant life, and bring home an individual museum of their studies.

Attending this advisory meet were Dr. Harold C. Bryant, former superintendent of the Grand Canyon National Park; Mr. Joseph Sheaff, superintendent; Mr. H. Z. Nyland, principal, Del Rey School; Bill Gaskell, Orinda School principal; Cynthia Knox, principal, Sleepy Hollow; Margaret K. Anderson, principal, Glorietta School; Frank E. Isola, Orinda Schools director of physical education; Norma L. Warner, Mt. Diablo Audubon Society; Mrs. T. E. Haley, Orinda Garden Club Conservation Chairman; Mrs. Mark Sorensen of Hilltop Garden Club; Mildred Winslow, conservation chairman for the State Clubs; Raymond Ferro, Glorietta School teacher; Mrs. Charles Erickson, retiring president, Orinda Mothers Club; Mrs. Linda Dodd, Del Rey School teacher; Mrs. Dorothy M. Newcombe, teacher at Orinda School; Mrs. Raffi Bedayn and Mrs. John Dorr, interested mothers.

Orindans Named To Honor Roll

Orinda residents Philip Leitner and Bradley Fallentine received academic hnors at the mid-semester at Saint Mary's College average or better to make the spring mid-term honor roll.

Leitner, a senior, and Fallentine, a junior, are both science majors. Leitner is sepcializing in biology, while Fallentine is concentrating on psychology.

Leitner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Josef Leitner of 117 Meadow Lane.

Fallentine lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fallentine, at 39 Los Dedos Road.

Before coming to Saint Mary's, Leitner attended Saint Mary's High School in Berkeley, while Fallentine graduated from San Ramon High School in Danville.

Club Now Open To Local Demos

Name and makeup of the organization were changed when the Democratic Women of Orinda met May 23.

At that session the club voted to change its name to the Democratic Club of Orinda and to open the membership rolls to all registered Democrats in the Orinda area.

Mrs. Phil Latterell is club president.

Persons interested in joining the club are asked to phone CL 4-5641 or DR 6-5469.

The Polio Season Is Here Have You Done Anything?

The "polio season" is upon us, and what have you done about it?

Are you among those who may have to attempt to apologize and try to lock the barn door after the horse has been stolen?

Salk vaccine for polio has been time tested, and there is no reason why any individual should not be immunized against this disease, which has been one of the most crippling to ever attack the human race.

Under a special program sponsored by the State of California and the Contra Costa Health Department, special clinics have been in operation to provide free polio shots to any who want them.

This program will end June 29, but until then you may still receive the first shot in a series of three recommended by doctors.

These clinics are open in Richmond, Pleasant Hill and Pittsburg from 9 to 12 a.m. on Saturdays, and in Pleasant Hill on Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

These clinics have been operating so that residents of Contra Costa County could receive their first two shots, which come a month apart, and then make arrangements for the "booster" which should be given about 12 months after the second shot.

But even if you cannot make one of the clinics, there is no reason to go without protection.

Your private physician will be glad to provide you with the immunization for an average fee of $15 for the three shots—$5 per shot.

This is a reasonable price to pay for protection against a horrible and crippling disease . . . and all it takes is a little initiative on your part. Just make an appointment, either with the county or with your doctor, and start your shots.

If you don't, and somebody in your family is stricken with polio, you will have only yourself to blame.

And if you do, you can rest assured that you have done all you can to protect yourself and your family.

Of course, just getting the shots isn't all you should do. You should remember not to swim and play when you are over tired, and try not to get exhausted.

And of course, keep an eye on the children. Sometimes they don't realize how tired they are getting. All of these precautions will help to make your summer a happier and safer one.

And of course, in case of fever or other signs of sickness, see your doctor.

But right now, why not start the ball rolling and make an appointment for that first polio shot.

Isn't it the wisest thing to do?

The Staff Corner

On Flowers, Dalmatians

By Julius Rosenthal

Amid all the heated controversy about various local issues, I have often wondered why Central Contra Costans do not become embroiled in arguments over subjects other than those which most frequently make the headlines.

We are all familiar with altercations over zoning, master planning, flouridation, budgets taxes and those other weighty problems which, come fair weather or foul, seem always to be with us.

These matters are important, of course. Yet I cannot help but reflect, occasionally, that there may be other equally fascinating topics, also worthy of prolonged and detailed discussion, whether in the informal atmosphere of one's home or the somewhat more constrained surroundings of a meeting-hall.

FOR INSTANCE, what about the relative merits of the flowers that bloom alongside our various roads in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Moraga, Canyon, Pleasant Hill and Concord?

Or the comparative listing of the qualities of flowers and vegetables in our gardens?

Surely, here is a matter where civic pride can take a forthright stand.

None of that lukewarm temporizing which indulges in such safe generalities as "Violets are lovely" and "Roses are beautiful."

Rather, in the sort of situation I have in mind, real courage and conviction would be required, resulting in an unequivocal assertion something like this:

"The flowers and shrubs along Oak Hill Road are superior to those anywhere else in this area."

Stated with appropriate emphasis, a remark like that could lead to some quite interesting developments—provided, of course, that enough people who lived on other roads and in other communities listened and commented.

THEN, TOO, there is a topic with profound implications but which, so far as I know, has never been adequately explored, either in the Diablo Valley or anywhere else.

I refer to number and position of black spots on Dalmatian dogs.

Admittedly, I am prejudiced in favor of Dalmatian dogs. We acquired ours over seven and a half years ago, when she was a mere pup of three months. Our idea was that the dog would be a companion for our daughter—but Joanne (that's the name daughter gave the dog) has turned out to be not only that but also much more.

Early during her life with us she sized up the situation with keen canine perception, and the result is that today I am as well trained a master as any self-respecting dog could wish.

Perhaps you are wondering what all this has to do with the Dalmatian's spots. The answer is simple. I challenge any other Central Contra Costans who are owners of Dalmatian dogs to rattle off an exact description of their dogs' spots.

I can come fairly close in describing Joanne—but I never seem to be able to bet beyond remembering spot number 59—or is it number 61?

All this may seem unimportant if you are the owner of collie or a cocker spaniel. However, in that case you and other owners of collies or cocker spaniels can choose subjects (about your dogs, of course) that are just as interesting as Dalmatians' spots.

AT THIS POINT I can detect a rumbling of irritation by those of my readers who suspect that I am guilty of dilly-dallying on rambling with vague discourse on flowers and dogs.

Such is not the case, I hasten to stress. my sole purpose in this essay is to demonstrate that there are fascinating but little-explored subjects which are worthy of argument and local civic pride.

Flowers and dogs are just a couple of examples. There are many others. Why not give them a try? You'll be surprised at the exhilaration that will result, to say nothing of the spirited discussion — even though the topics might not ordinarily be considered good headline material.

Thermometer Proves To Be Better Rat Trap

Last week, I wrote about our unusual weather. I have heard different persons complain about the heat we have (which is currently most noticed in Martinez) the cold, the wind, and the dust. But we really don't have unusual weather in Contra Costa County.

I was raised near the town of Mojave—on the Mojave desert. We really had extremes of weather there. Talk about wind! There was a prize of $100 offered in the 1890's to anyone who could walk a block up the main street without being blown off the boardwalk—and no one ever collected!

When I lived there in the 1930's all automobiles carried anchors and I once saw a chicken, with her back to the wind, lay the same egg three times.

Yessir! The wind really blew in the Mojave! and you never saw such dust! I have watched ground squirrels three feet off the ground trying to dig in!

It got so cold in the winter that the natives used thermoneters for rat traps. They'd place a piece of cheese beneath a thermoneter and the mecury dropped so fast it pinned the rat to the floor!

One fellow I knew lighted his pipe one bitter winter day and the flame froze. He threw the match down. The next summer the flame thawed out and burnt his cabin down!

My folks raised beans and the cold winters really saved us a lot of work. After the first cold snap, we collected al the rattlesnakes we found frozen stiff.

We pounded them into the ground as stakes for our bean plants. When summer came the beans matured, the snakes thawed out and, in shaking loose, shelled the beans.

Wouldn't that rattle you?

I am concerned with the letters we have been getting about people-annoying dogs. I'm in favor of making people go out on a leash. That might stop the traffic jam we have in Lafayette every morning. And I don't think people should annoy dogs anyway!

Note for the DA

Rumor has it that you will have opposition next election.

Letters to The Editor

ON FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Re comments of Lee Walden on fluoridation.

Did it ever occur to him if he wants fluorides for his children all he needs is one gallon water from druggist containing 1.7 grams sodium fluoride, give 1 easpoon per day. Dosage is thus regulated throughout the year, at less than cent a day.

Why waste thousands watering gardens. What happens to the adult working in summer sun consuming quarts of this water which isn't of value to adult teeth or children over 8 years, but may harm kidneys and liver, or don't they count?

IF THE EDITOR would fight as hard for an educational program in nutrition as for fluoridation we could raise the health standard as well as benefiting the teeth.

Yes, we object to pasteurized milk, because many nutritional factors are lost, namely enzymes, which lose activity exposed to heat, also vitamins, steroids, plus 2½ million pounds of calcium a year. Read dairy journal ads for detergents to remove calcium from pasteurization tanks.

I've been in dairies in Los Angeles and Fresno which produce certified raw milk; their standards are so high medical publications accept their advertising, describe it superior in nutritional value and completely safe. Bacterial count is lower than pasteurized milk.

ANY TIME foods are processed or tinkered with there are losses. Trouble arises from over-processed, devitalized foods, not lack of fluoridation.

Ask yourself why millions of dollars are spent for vitamins if our food is nutritionally sufficient.

Suggest you read "Eat Right to Keep Fit," "Nutrition and Physical Degeneration," "Let's Have Healthy Children," "Our Daily Poison," to name a few. If interested in your children you'll want all the facts. I'll loan books.

AS FOR Mrs. Jeffrey, she deserves much credit for her efforts working out a plan of better nutrition for her family. She is rewarded with healthy children with no tooth decay.

I'll say right here they don't get soda pop, hot dogs, white bread, candy, cookies made from highly refined sugar and flour, and poison sprayed produce.

If you insist on fluoridating us, we can resort to bottled spring water. That way we map for your fluorides plus water we think is fit to drink. Seems there is no "liberty and justice for all" any more.

MRS. FRED R. BROWN

RE: PUBLIC HEALTH

Dear Editor:

An argument which will cast doubt upon the benefit of pasteurization of milk belongs better in the 19th century than as a current topic of debate.

I highly recommend for all those interested in keeping informed on current studies in the realm of public health a book which appears yearly entitled "Health Yearbook" by Dr. Oliver E. Byrd, Ed.D., M.D.; publisher —Stanford University Press.

On page 186 of the "Health Yearbook 1955" the following statement is made:

"George F. Lull, M.D., secretary and general manager of the American Medical Association, stated in June 1955 that "the unscrupulous opponents of fluoridation have spread the impression that the American Medical Association did not endorse this public health measure. The fact is that it did, and that it stands by its endorsement. . . ."

Mrs. Jeffrey does not seem to understand that a single, isolated example, valid or invalid as it may be, is not conclusive proof of a point of view when held to the light of scientific prnciples of inquiry.

Studies of thousands of children, or of a city population, are the masses for objective measurement which are leading to the endorsement of fluoridation by an ever growing number of local, state and national organizations.

RICHARD W. LELAND

CORRECTION

Editor's note: In publishing Mrs. John Jeffrey's letter on fluoridation last week, The Sun inadvertently omitted an important part of a sentence. As erroneously published, the sentence read, "I wonder if Lee Walden knows that a chlorine treats the 'body'."

The sentence should have read, "I wonder if Lee Walden knows that chlorine treats the 'water' and flourine treats the 'body'."

Have You Been Gypped Lately? Well, Read This

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Have you ever been fooled by a smooth-talking, door-to-door salesman? Well, if you haven't, you are lucky. If you have, it's been an experience—even though costly.

We seem to be getting our share of them these days. A good example is the "bargain" offered by a truck driver who has just enough "black-top" left from one paving job to put a new top on your driveway.

Sounds good. Logical. And a real bargain. Unfortunately, the blacktop is of very poor quality and improperly applied. You were gypped.

Your combustion chamber?

I just received this letter of another deal. See for yourself:

"Dear Editor:

"Most of us think we could easily spot a 'suede-shoe' operator. Whether he deals in roofing, plumbing or whatever. I recently had an experience with a heating service man, who was so smooth and so typical of this type of confidence game that I feel I must sound a warning.

"He had legitimate entry to my home as the result of advertising, offering furnace cleaning, adjusting, etc., at reasonable rates. His examination of the furnace revealed 'two serious cracks' in the combustion chamber,' and implied that this was a dangerous situation.

Boy, what troubles!

"He recommended replacement of the combustion chamber or furnace with a larger one. He stated that the furnace had failed because it was too small for the house and that a replacement combustion chamber would fail again in a short time.

"A later examination of the furnace by a local furnace man proved it to be in perfect operating order and a check, with the Better Business Bureau, showed a number of similar complaints.

"I hope that my letter will help stomp out this type of operation in our community. A call to the Oakland Better Business Bureau is all it takes. Your own judgement of character may not be enough for this individual has a relaxed, low pressure approach that is most convincing and persuasive. I knew he was a fraud and a cheat and yet he almost sold me a new furnace that I knew I didn't need!"

Sincerely yours,
E. A. YOUNGMAN.

What do you think?

And this is certainly very good advice. You can be sure that your local businessman plans to be here for many years and offers the best service and merchandise at reasonable prices. He lives and works here. He is here to stay. His business helps support the schools and government, as well as giving of his time, effort and money toward community affairs.

But aside from these factors, it is just good, plain, common sense to buy at home and be sure.

Letters to The Editor

USE TAX

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you with the hope that you will be instrumental in correcting situations as follows:

Newly arrived citizens to this State are being harassed by the California State Board of Equalization for payment of a use tax on their automobiles they have brought into the State.

According to the Board all tangible personal property brought into the State is taxable regardless of the purchaser's place of residence at the time of purchase or the fact that another tax may have been paid where the purchase was made.

It does not seem conceivable to me that the Legislators of this State would deliberately penalize people by taxing them for goods purchased prior to even becoming a resident of this State.

I am sure that industry, in striving for the continued growth and expansion of the State, is not in sympathy with such a procedure.

Furthermore I can not see where California has a legal or moral right to even consider such a scheme. It is possible that the intent of the law is not as was outlined to me but is merely an over zealous governmental agency exceeding its authority.

Local Boys Make All-Star Team

CC Coaches Name Year's All-County Baseball Team

The baseball coaches of the Diablo Valley Athletic League met at Concord Monday and after debate came up with a first and second all star team.

Two sophs, one junior and nine seniors made up the first nine.

Catcher Dave Stafford, pitcher Rod Atnip, second baseman Art Pargament and first baseman Jim Dinkel were repeats.

Mt. Diablo copped the pennant and also posted five players on the top club; Antioch three; Pittsburg two and Las Lomas one.

Complete selections are as follows:

FIRST TEAM: Dave Stafford (sr), Mt. Diablo; Ron Atnip (sr), Mt. Diablo; John Fields (sr), Pittsburg; Ron Lichtie (so), Mt. Diablo; Jim Dinkle (sr), Acalanes; Art Pargament (sr), Mt. Diablo; Art Regoli (jr), Antioch; Rally Rounsaville (sr), Antioch; Doug Potter (sr), Las Lomas; Bob Fields (sr), Pittsburgh; Charles Dodd (sr), Antioch; Jim Liggett (so), Mt. Diablo.

Walnut Creek's Softball Teams Go Through Pace

Three League games and a practice tilt marked the opening week of play under the lights of the Walnut Creek City park.

The opener May 27, found Will's All Stars winning over Rheem Center by an 8-1 count.

Goose Gausman on the mound for the winners displayed good form as he gave up but two hits. He struck out all but three and had good team support.

Losing pitcher was John Henson who was off to a wobbly start as he walked four and hit one batter before being removed in the first. Ed Vick went in with one down and went the rest of the way.

Rheem's lone run came in the second while Will's posted 2 in the first 4 in the sixth, and one in the final stanza.

Arne Rose, second baseman of the winners, topped the batters as he bagged 2 for 4 with a single and a triple.

May 29 found Hoffman's Liquors of Martinez rolling to a 14-1 win over Diablo Drug.

Hoffman's posted more than enough runs in the second inning when they collected three runs on two hits, a walk and a fielders choice and added ample insurance with a nine-run outburst in the third, then added single runs in the fourth and fifth.

DIABLO DRUG'S lone run came in the fifth when they collected their only two hits with third baseman Phil Churchill and right-fielder Dave Perreira banging out singles.

Hoffman's nine collected 10 hits. Centerfielder Joe Guerra had a two for three with a home run and a double. Left fielder Pep Balestri had a home run and a single in four times at bat while Will Hall collected a pair of triples in four times at the plate.

Fred Ednan started on the mound for Diablo Drug and was taken out in the third by Gene Bell.

In an exhibition game Friday the Spools Club of Castro Valley out-scored Rheem Center with a 12-8 score.

Rich Mendosa, the winning pitcher, gave up 11 hits. Ed Vietss gave up nine markers.

MONDAY NIGHT Hoffman's remained out in front of the league as they nailed down a 2-0 win over Rheem Center.

The Girls' softball team is sponsored by Ruth Pellett of the Town and Country Beauty Salon of Walnut Creek under Merle Norman Cosmetics.

By mid June the club is to appear in new uniforms.

Braves Top Concord Babe Ruth Loop With 5-1 Mark

A forfeit based on a league technicality cost the Vic Jones Roofing Braves their first league defeat of the season Monday.

But with the season just past the one-third mark, the Braves still lead Concord's first Babe Ruth Baseball League with a 5-1 won and lost record.

TRAILING BY A GAME and a half are the Optimist Club Redlegs who won the forfeited game from the Braves Monday night after playing the league leaders to a 4-4 tie game which was called on account of darkness.

The game was forfeited because the Braves had used two pitchers who did not receive three days rest, a violation of Babe Ruth rules.

Neither rules nor the opposition stopped the Braves nine Saturday and Sunday as they defeated the Phillies 12-7 in a scheduled game and bested the Redlegs 5-2 in a makeup contest.

THE BRAVES MADE ONLY one hit during a six-run third inning against the Phillies, but Philly wildness and errors did the rest. Philly pitchers Jim Maples and Bob Juarez surrendered only eight hits but walked 13 in five innings.

Geary Limone went five innings for the winners, allowing one hit while striking out five and walking four. Frank Snyder finished up and allowed only one other hit, but the Phillies also capitalized on fielding misplays to score three sixth inning runs.

In the Sunday contest against the Redlegs a three-run fifth inning highlighted by Eddie Johnson's two-run triple broke up a tight 1-1 contest.

BOB ST. PIERRE SCATTERED five Redleg hits while fanning 11 batters and walking only four in pitching the distance for the Braves. Scott Crenshaw also went all the way for the Redlegs, allowing eight hits.

In other contests during the weeks the Cubs edged the Redlegs 5-4, the iablo Sports Center Pirates outlasted the Flying A's 6-5 and the Redlegs measured the Phillies 14-1 in a Memorial Day game.

Gene Case twirled a neat four hitter for the Cub victory, striking out 10 and walking only two.

The Flying A's scored twice in the fifth and twice more in the seventh but were unable to overcome an early 5-1 Pirate margin. Jim Nisonger pitched the distance for the winners.

In the Memorial Day Redleg win, Dave Crenna twirled a neat two-hitter while his teammates scored five in the sixth and six times in the seventh.

DIAMOND CHATTER
Colorful Opening Held By Young Ball Players

By MEL ALAMANO

The '57 baseball season in Walnut Creek opened last Sunday with a gala show, including music by the 12th Naval District Band.

Mayor John Connolly threw in the first ball, and Parkmead Principal Elmo Giulieri caugh it.

The turn out by parents was large, but the baseball players outnumbered the parents.

The drawing for opening day prizes was held and H. Ashton won the car donated by Van Horn Motors. The TV set was won by Don Rufenratt of San Francisco. The radio was won by Gertrude Sims of Concord.

It was a warm day, but a happy crowd was there. The boys were colorfully uniformed.

The new regulation ball diamond is being worked on and hopes are that the older boys' American League will be able to use it in a week or so.

Graduation will take boys away from teams next week so some games will be postponed for a few days.

The Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association members will pitch in and help on the ball fields. The Coast League diamonds at the new Walnut Creek School needs water, but cost of piping will force some other method—possibly use of hoses.

Capt. Otto Schatz arranged opening day and brought the band out for the event. Marion Stephenson, a guy who works for the kids all the time, handled the ticket drawing besides helping on the field.

Marion, who rarely gets near the limelight, deserves the gratitude of every parent. Personally I know he spends more time assisting than anyone can guess.

There are a few men who do all the work, and unless further help is secured, they will never get a chance to relax and enjoy the work they have done.

Ninety per cent of the parents and boys are behind the program The ten per cent who are not should get in the swing!

The W. C. Youth Athletic Association requests all parents to make sure their youngsters are taken home after games.

No boy should be left waiting at the park after evening games. The Association will have to take action if this is not done. Get out and root for the kids!

Legion Boys Win Opener

Junior American Legion ballplayers of Post 115 won their first game of the season last Saturday, but were losers on Sunday.

Their victory was 1-0 over San Pablo. Don Hopkins was the pitcher for the local team.

El Cerrito beat the Walnut Creek team, 2-1. Wade Hansen hurled for Walnut Creek. Both games were played at Las Lomas High School.

Two games are scheduled for this weekend.

The local players will meet Lafayette at Las Lomas at 2 p.m. tomorrow. They will travel to Concord and play the Concord team at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

Richmond Tops Legion League In First Week

Richmond topped the Ninth District Legion standings after the opening week's play with a 2-0 record.

Martinez with a win in its only game was also undefeated.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Richmond	2	0	1,000	—
Martinez	1	2	1,000	—
Concord	1	1	.500	½
Walnut Creek	1	1	.500	1
Lafayette	1	1	.500	1
Hary Ells	1	1	.500	1
El Cerrito	1	1	.500	1
San Pablo	0	1	.000	1½
Pittsburg	0	2	.000	2

Anaclerio Quits, May Seek Another Coaching Position

Baseball coach Carl Anaclerio will leave Mt. Diablo High School at the end of the current semester for work in a general physical education program or for another coaching post.

The Red Devil coach brought his team home as outright division champs in the Diablo Valley Athletic League this year after tying Acalanes for the honor in 1956.

DIABLO'S TWO-YEAR regular season record was a commendable 18 wins and six losses.

Anaclerio stated that he had received "three or four high school offers and a couple of junior college offers for next season.

He said that he would "probably not" be working in the central Contra Costa area next season.

Anaclerio, 32, graduated from the University of California in 1952 as a physical education major. He coached the Bear frosh baseball team in 1952 and 1954 and was assistant to varsity coach Clint Evans in 1953.

Before coming to Mt. Diablo, Anaclerio coached at Half Moon Bay High.

Stewart-Payne Team Is Winner At Ladies' Golf

The following were the results of the Ladies' Golf last Friday at Orinda Country Club:

Class B:

Pirates Spoil No-Hitter; Clip Spartans 6-0

Al Burton, Pacifica southpaw pitcher, provided a valiant but disheartening postscript to the DVAL baseball season May 27 as he pitched 10 and two-thirds innings of no-hit, no-run ball before being clobbered by a run starved Pittsburg team in the 12th inning.

The Pirates won the ball game 6-0 as Pacifica ran their season's end scoreless streak to 33 consecutive innings.

AS A RESULT of the win, Pitt finished the season in second place with an 8-4 mark, two games behind the Mt. Diablo Red Devils, 1957 division champs.

Pacifica was last with a record of no wins, 11 losses and a tie with Las Lomas.

Burton turned in the best of several good pitching performances he has given the Spartans this season, but Pacifica error sand his own wildness conspired to beat him in the 12th.

FRANK CARDINELLI'S SINGLE started the Pitt rally off, and the Pirates poured six runs across the plate during the inning on three more hits, two walks and two errors.

Tony Aiello got the first hit off Burton in the 11th with two out. Te Sparton southpaw fanned 11 during the game and walked the same number.

Way ahead of Burton on control was Pitt hurler John Fields who went the entire distance, striking out 15 and walking only three.

FIELDS SURRENDERED ONLY three hits, two of them to catcher Jim Anderson, and had a no-hitter of his own going until the seventh.

Doten Progam Honors Farmer

Because of his accomplishments in the recent North Coast Track Meet, Bee classification, Dixon Farmer of Miramonte High School, Orinda, was honored as the "Athlete of the Week" on last week's Doten Sports Institute program over Radio Station KLX.

"PARDON ME, BUT YOU'RE OUT!"—That's what Pitcher Denny Toll (left) may be saying as he puts the ball on sliding Jerry Custard in a play at home plate in Lafayette Youth Baseball competition. The youthful pitcher ran in to cover home plate. —Sun photo by Mattson

Babe Ruth Play In Third Week

Walnut Creek Optimists and Lafayette are leading the Eastern Division of the Contra Costa County Babe Ruth League. The third week of play was scheduled for tomorrow. Both teams have 2-0 records.

Tied for second place where the Danville Stars and West Pittsburg with 1 and 1 while Martinez and Shore Acres have yet to win a game after two starts.

Last week the Optimists nosed out Martinez 3-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Bob Gomez while Bob Nelson and Kinion were giving up five hits.

Jeff Morgan, Optimist centerfielder, and Harold Stevenson, left fielder, each came through with two hits.

Lafayette swamped Shore Acres 15-3 with Gary Brekke taking over the mound in the last inning after Dennis Toll had gone six innings for the winners.

Gary Wliliamson Leaves World a Better Place...

By Erwin Mattson

It is with a heavy hand and heart that I write of the tragic loss of Gary Williamson ,who lost his life in a motor accident last Sunday evening.

When Gary was lost it was as if a part of the good things in life had died. It was a stunning blow to all who had know him—he had no enemies and was celebrated for his goodness of heart and eternal cheerfulness.

I personally have known Gary for many years—since he entered Acalanes after transfering from Las Lomas.

HE PLAYED football and baseball, and I came to know him very well as a coach and friend.

It is difficult to understand why this should have happened to one so young and with so much to give.

One of his greatest attributes was his love for kids and, in turn, their love for him.

He had been employed as a playground director for several years, both at Walnut Creek and Lafayette, during vacation periods.

TO SAY THAT he was popular is to make an understatement. It was everyday talk to hear, "Gary said this or that"—said in a voice of respect and pride that is earned only by a select few.

His passing leaves a void that can never be filled—he leaves the world a richer and better place for what he gave to it.

Perhaps the esteem in which he was held is best illustrated by the fact that a group of youngsters at grammar school gave their lunch money to send flowers.

I HAVE TRIED to put in words what I feel in my heart— which is not easy in such times as this.
